

WESSA School Programme 2021 Registration Form

Through its three international education programmes, WESSA is promoting innovation in learner-centred development. A combined school that goes from Grade R to 12 would do well to include all three programmes as there are elements that complement each programme and there is a greater opportunity for participation in all phases of the school. While a primary school might migrate between LEAF and Eco-Schools or simultaneously do both, a secondary school might be better suited to pursue YRE which promotes critical thinking and leadership. YRE deepens understanding of the research process through literature surveys and application of knowledge. For teenagers, education must be a journey of adventure, discovery, self-actualisation and learning real-life developmental skills for the workplace. Eco-Schools has many years of accumulated practical wisdom in multidisciplinary education, YRE and LEAF allow for adaptation, alteration and transformation of differentiated learning relevant for the range of learners being educated today. Which programme/s suits your school best?
